Developed together with medical specialists, physiotherapists and other health experts, this shower system makes for an entirely new wellness experience in your own bathroom. The core component is the HANSAEMOTION thermostat with optional Wellfit function. One of three well-being programmes can be selected by pressing the Wellfit button in the centre of the thermostat. Each programme has a specific effect on the body that matches what we experience day by day:

The RELAX function has a soothing effect with its long hot-water phases and gentle temperature transitions. To get the circulation going and recharge the body with energy, the RELOAD function with its balance of hot and cold stimuli is ideal. With the RECOVER function, intensive cold-water cycles produce a cooling-down effect that can help to relax the muscles, prevent stiffness and in the long term it even strengthens the cardiovascular system.
