ALESSI SENSE

ALESSI Sense by HANSA allows for intuitive and controlled use of water. There is a semi-transparent dish at the top of the fitting that you operate like a button. The flow of water is activated by pressing it briefly or for longer. An LED bar that functions like a timer 'runs out' accordingly. The flow of water can be stopped at any time by pressing the dish again. This gives you a sense of how long the water actually flows and you learn how to use it more consciously. Designed by Rodrigo Torres.
